

Interview with Ivan MALTMAN

A member of a pioneering
Caloundra family

Caloundra Family History Research Inc.

with Ralph Gray
Caloundra Family History Research Inc.

So Ivan, when I was asked to interview you, I thought “Maltman?” Isn’t that the name of a street in Caloundra? Is the name of the street connected to your family

Maltman Street, 1940

Maltman Family, c1876

of Mooloolah / Glenview

Pictured from L-R:

- John Maltman,
- James Robert Maltman (Bob),
later resident of Caloundra,
- Alexander Maltman,
- Leticia Ann Maltman
and her mother
- Leticia Rose Maltman
(nee: Mullholland)

1934

Fancy
dress party at Caloundra
State
School

Fancy dress party at Caloundra State School, ca 1934 [picture]

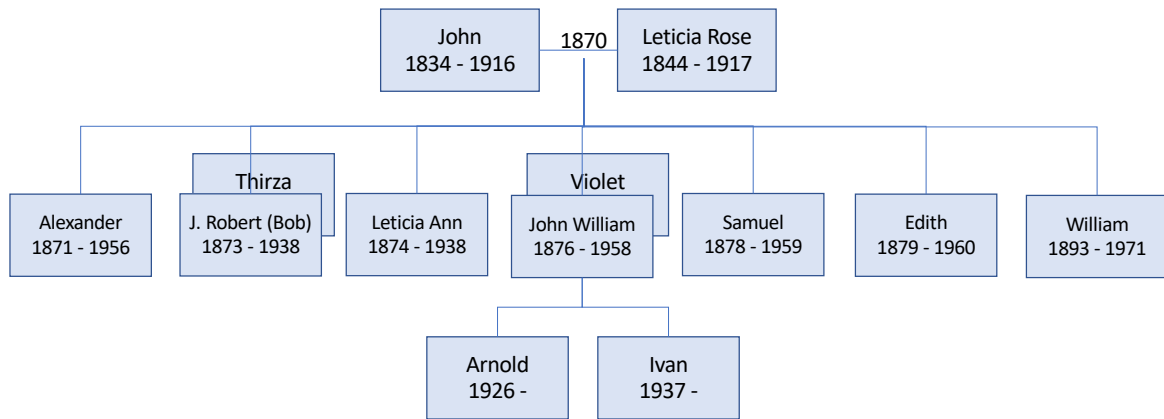

John Maltman's children L-R Dulcie, Roy, Arnold, Eunice 'Amy' and Harrold Maltman. In the background on right is the school water tank behind Caloundra School.

Australia, Electoral Rolls, 1903-1980 for John Maltman

Queensland > 1913 > Lilley > Nambour

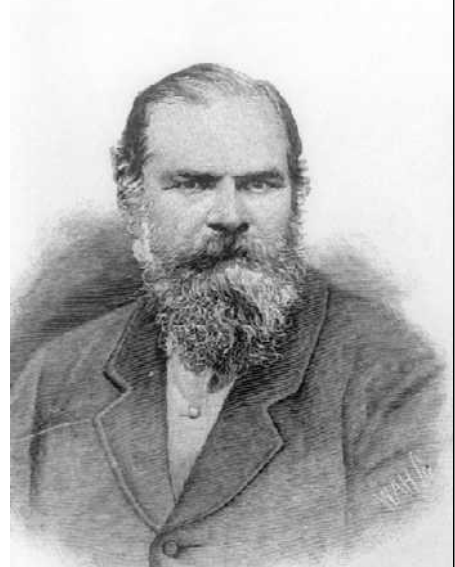

Maltman, Edith, Bald Knob, Landsborough, home duties, F
Maltman, James Robert, Caloundra, teamster, M
Maltman, John, Bald Knob, Landsborough, gardener, M
Maltman, John William, Bald Knob, Landsborough, teamster, M
Maltman, Karen, Bald Knob, housewife, F
Maltman, Letitia Ann, Bald Knob, Landsborough, home duties, F
Maltman, Samuel Theodore, Bald Knob, Landsborough, dairyman, M
Maltman, Thirza Mildred, Caloundra, home duties, F

Maltman Family Tree - Simplified

William Landsborough

- William Landsborough took up land near present day Golden Beach
- Landsborough ran sheep on Loch Lamerough for a time
- John Maltman of Glenview was the Overseer.
- Two of Maltman's sons worked for Landsborough, Bob (James Robert aged 7 yrs.) and Alex (9 yrs.), were shepherds.
- The boys walked from his Loch Lamerough property at Golden Beach, to their parents' Glenview farm each weekend.

The well known explorer, William Landsborough took up land near present day Golden Beach, between that of Samuel Leach and Robert Bulcock's lands. Landsborough ran sheep on Loch Lamerough for a time and John Maltman of Glenview was the Overseer. Two Maltman's sons worked for Landsborough, Bob (James Robert aged 7 yrs.) and Alex (9 yrs.), were shepherds. The boys walked from his Loch Lamerough at Golden Beach, to their parents' Glenview farm each weekend.

John William MALTMAN,
1876-1958

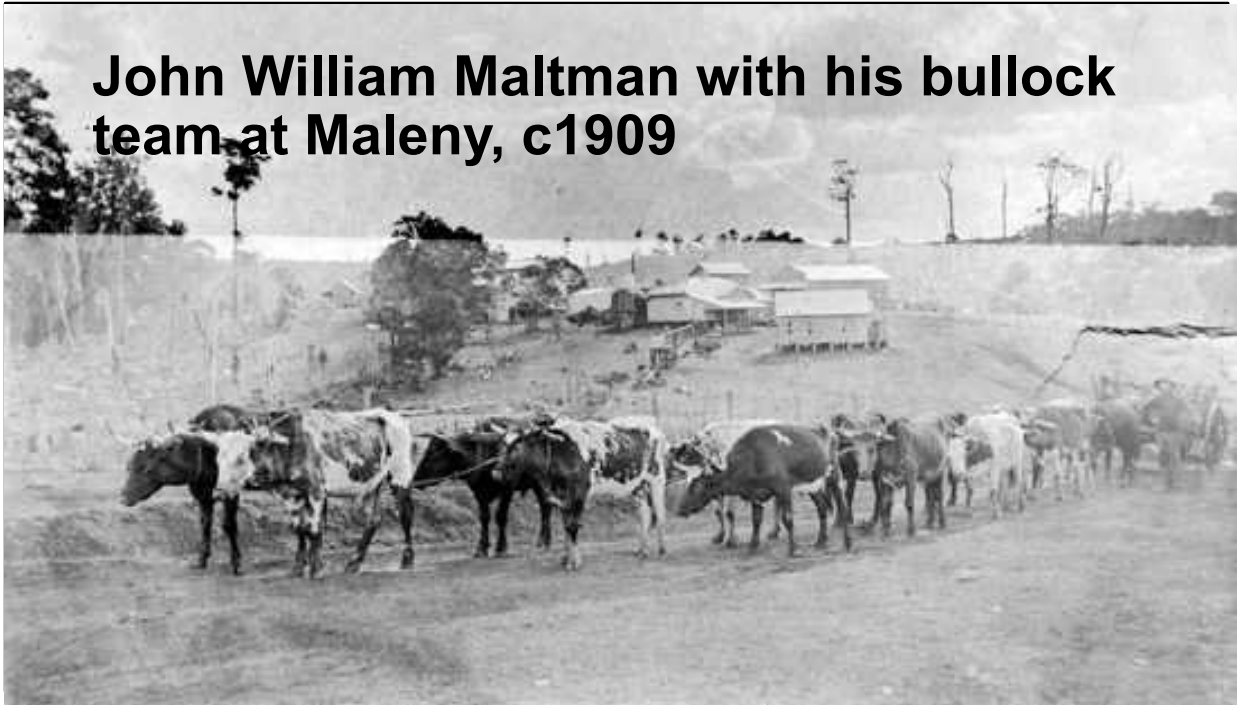

John William Maltman (1876-158)

John William MALTMAN, 1876-1958

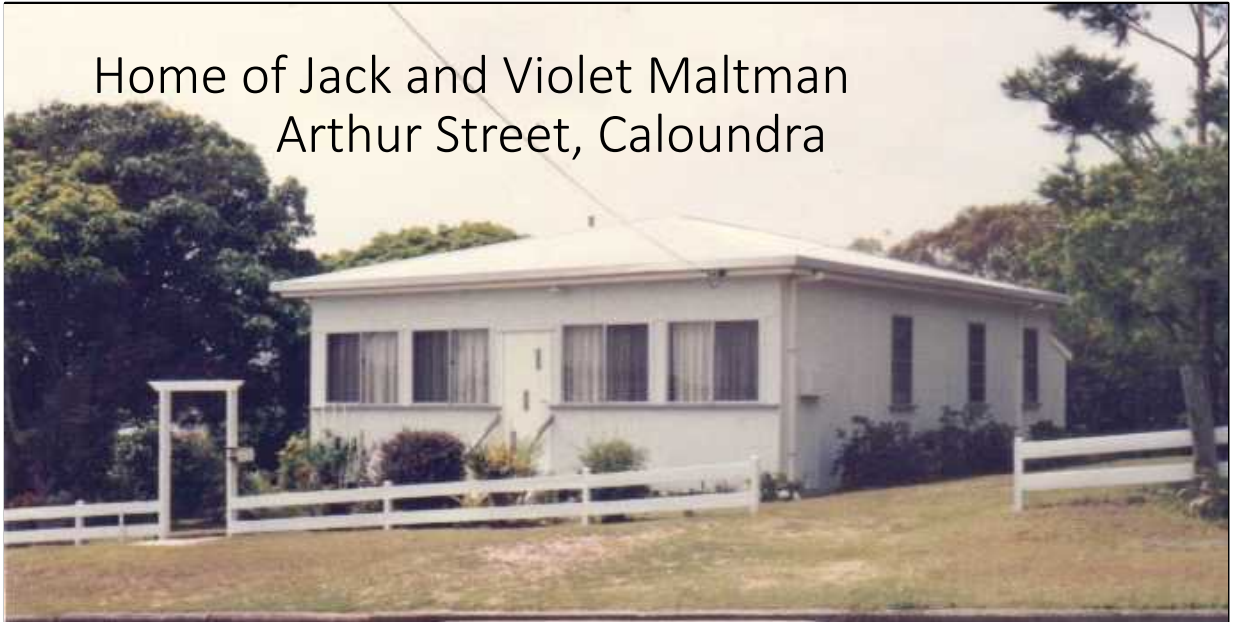

John William Maltman (1876-158) pictured on horse-back (right) on the Landsborough-Maleny Road travelling up the range towards Maleny, where he had a dairy farm and kept his bullock team. John used his bullock team to cart butter from the Maleny Buter Factory to Landsborough for the Maleny Dairy Co-operative Association Ltd.

John William Maltman with his bullock team at Maleny, c1909

Picture taken from the front of the Maleny Hotel looking west. John William Maltman (1876-1958) pictured far right. Buildings in background include the first Co-operative store, the first Butter factory, the second Cooperative store and Tytherleigh's store. John Maltman was one of several local residents who, between 1905-1912 secured the contract to cart butter from the Maleny Butter Factory to the rail head at Landsborough. The first contractors to undertake the job were F. J. Vandrieke assisted by L. Tesch. They were followed by Tom Brown and Jim Douglas and then as butter production increased, bullock teams were introduced for the work by J. Grigor and W. Maltman until October 1912.

Home of Jack and Violet Maltman
Arthur Street, Caloundra

Google Maps view

James Robert 'Bob' Maltman
and Thirza, 1942

Ivan, what can you tell us about your Uncle Bob?

<https://electricscotland.com/history/world/landsb.htm>

James Robert 'Bob' Maltman
of Caloundra, seated in his milk cart, c1920

Mr (Bob) James Robert Maltman of Caloundra, with his Milk Cart, which he used to deliver fresh milk to the residents of Caloundra. Boy next to him is Les McMillian, who was the delivery boy. Prices delivered to door in your bill can. 6p Quart 3p Pint 1 1/2 p 1/2 Pint. On cart signwriting by Tom MacBride - "Warm Milk" was written on the back and side - "Glen Dairy" on the back.

Maltman's Hall c1926

1926

Mr Bob Maltman built a privately owned hall on the corner Maltman & Queen Streets, where Church services, dances, meetings and movies were held.

Bob Maltman built the Glen Café in Queen Street in the late 1920s

The Cafe was used during WWII as a canteen for some of the Aust Army battalions that were camped about Currimundi, Dicky Beach and Caloundra areas.

The Glen Cafe, after it had closed, Mr Billy Allen is sitting on the verandah. Mr Allen was a retired Bank Manager who rented the old cafe from Bob Maltman, who built the cafe, in Queen Street, near his home, in the late 1920s. The Cafe was used during WWII as a canteen for some of the Aust Army batallions that were camped about Currimundi, Dicky Beach and Caloundra areas.

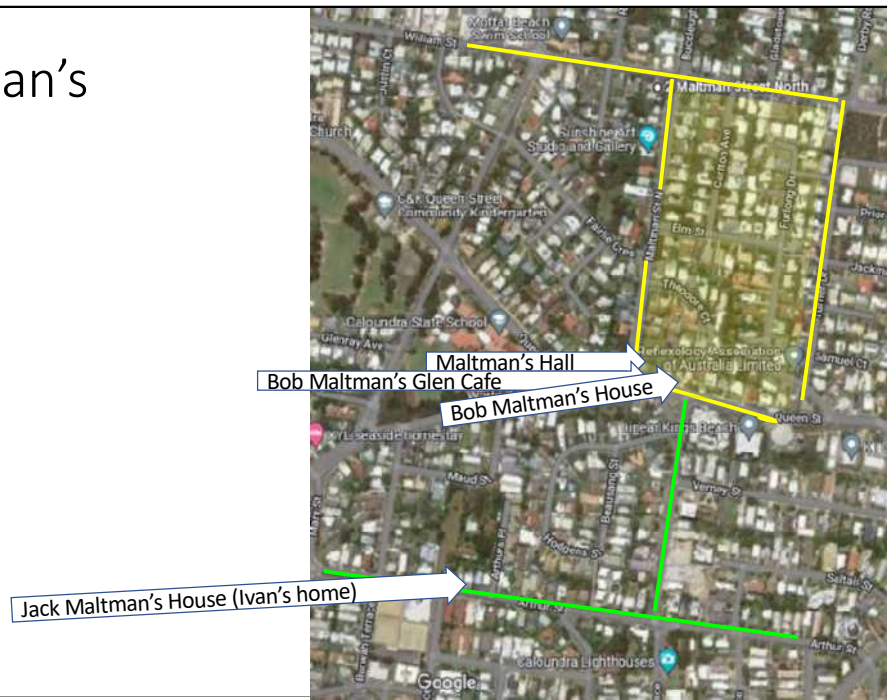

Holiday residence built by Bob Maltman
for Dr. Ross, Bulcock Street, Caloundra

Log cabin built for Doctor Arthur John Ross, by Mr John R (Bob) Maltman of Caloundra. Dr. Ross was a keen gardener and he surrounded his home with an acre of landscaped Japanese gardens

Bob Maltman's Diary Farm

Ivan Maltman (1937 -)

2012

WHEN the Maltman family decides to head to the beach for the day, the chances are they're not planning on lazing in the sun.

Three generations of the family are now involved in patrolling the shoreline - a tradition which has its roots almost 30 years ago.

Life members Ivan Maltman and his son Cleveland joined Marcoola Surf Life Saving Club in 1983. Cleveland's brother, Lachlan soon joined and now his niece Holly, 16, has signed up to continue the tradition.

"This is the first time that Marcoola has had three generations as lifesavers all as current active bronze holders," Cleveland said.

"We love the beach and the lifestyle and hopefully our kids and their kids will continue on through the club."

An electrician by trade, Cleveland said his family traced its Sunshine Coast links back to 1875.

"My dad was born here in Caloundra and our family has been here for many years," he said.

Although the three generations may vary in age, their love of the beach and serving the community are common bonds.

"We don't normally patrol all at the same time. We have in the past but not of late," Cleveland said.

"That being said, my father did purposely roster himself on the same patrol as Holly. I think he wanted that grandfather/granddaughter team.

"The Sunshine Coast is such a great place to live and work. If you're going to make a life anywhere why not here?"

2017

Lachlan & Ivan Maltman at Club Annual Dinner receiving their SLSA National Medal of President, Dave McLean ESM

The National Medal was established by the Commonwealth of Australia in 1975 as one of the original elements of the distinctive Australian system of honours and awards. The medal recognises long service in organisations that protect life and property at some risk to their members. The National Medal is available to Surf Life Saving Australia volunteers and employees who have eligible and proficient service with a minimum of 30 hours each year for a minimum period of 15 years

Congratulations to following long serving members that were recognised for their contribution to Marcoola SLSC & Surf Life Saving with an SLSA National Medal: Ivan & Lachlan Maltman, an outstanding achievement